The meeting was held on 15 November at 7 p.m. in Room 1163 of the College of Engineering. The session included training on resolution drafting and the formation of committees.

Following the previous year, the training was provided by Datbyeol Education, a professional MUN training organization. Instructor Ji-min Kim opened the session by stating, “During your participation in Model UN, we will continue to support you so that you gain meaningful experiences and learn as much as possible.” Kim also emphasized, “Debates on international politics rarely have definitive answers. What matters most is how effectively you can persuade others based on logical reasoning.”

Countries with similar positions also gathered to form coalitions. A total of four coalitions were established: Coalition A (Colombia, Mexico, the Netherlands, and India), Coalition B (South Africa and Australia), Coalition C (China and Afghanistan), and Coalition D (Thailand and Myanmar).

Meanwhile, the delegations are scheduled to prepare draft resolutions within their respective committees by today. These drafts will be further refined during informal meetings on the 22nd and 31st of this month. Attention is now focused on the upcoming 3rd HLMUN General Assembly, which is fast approaching.
